

“NOT MUCH PATIENCE FOR FAILURE”

8 years of George Bush:

- "All right. You've covered your ass, now."
- Five years of FUBAR in Iraq
- Katrina
- Alberto Gonzales
- Two landslides losses for the GOP
- The collapse of our entire economic system

And now this:

"What is amazing is that Steele was elected because of his communications skills, and it is those skills that are damaging the Republican Party. Before people begin to completely judge him as worthless, Steele needs to focus and knuckle down on building a strong foundation at RNC so we can begin rebuilding our majority," says a top GOP strategist who has worked for House and Senate Republican leaders. "If his implosion continues, RNC members are likely to call a special session to dump him for an effective chairman. There is not much patience for failure."

I'd really hate to see what patience for failure looks like.
