

THE ENTIRE REPUBLICAN PARTY OWNS TRUMP'S CRIMES GOING FORWARD

Both articles of impeachment just passed Congress, with the only non-partisan votes coming from Justin Amash (voting yes on both), Tulsi Gabbard (voting present on both), Jeff Van Drew and Collin Peterson (no on both) and Jared Golden (who split his vote). In spite of a pretty damning speech about Republican lack of courage from Steny Hoyer, no Republican had the courage to support the Constitution.

President Trump will be shown to have committed more crimes, even more grievous ones than withholding duly appropriate aid to cheat in an election. It probably won't be that long from now. And the entire Republican party will own those crimes.

The Republican party favors cheating over the national security of the United States.
