

DON JR'S DEMAND TO "DECLASSIFY EVERYTHING" AND THE SECRET GRAND JURY INFORMATION HIS BUDDY SHARED ABOUT JULIAN ASSANGE

Yesterday, Don Jr tweeted out a demand that someone – Daddy, maybe? – “declassify everything.”

We can't let the bad actors get away with it.

I guess the failson believes there are secret facts that will change the reality that his Daddy just lost an election by the same Electoral College margin Trump beat Hillary by in 2016, with an even bigger popular vote loss than he suffered in 2016.

Given Jr's belief that releasing classified information can save him, though, it's worth revisiting testimony that former Sputnik propagandist Cassandra Fairbanks gave at the Julian Assange extradition hearing.

She testified under oath that, a month after President Trump would have learned that the Mueller team was investigating the Roger Stone-led effort to pardon Julian Assange – an effort that seems to have implicated Don Jr, too – Don Jr's close friend Arthur Schwartz told Fairbanks that there would be no fucking pardon for Assange. Schwartz proceeded to give Fairbanks accurate, secret information about the grand jury investigation into Assange. She also testified vaguely that Schwartz said "other persons ... might be affected" including people he referred to as "lifelong friends," a reference she took to mean Don Jr.

In early 2019, Fairbanks traveled to London to share this secret grand jury information with Assange in person. So Schwartz' leak played a role in the target of a criminal investigation learning secret details about that investigation.

Fairbanks implied that Ric Grenell – who inhabited the same far right wing chat room as Fairbanks and Schwartz and who gave Ecuador reassurances that Assange won't face the death penalty – may have been Schwartz's source. But if Schwartz knew that Assange might present problems for Don Jr, as Fairbanks implied, it suggests he spoke with the President's son about it.

At the very least, DOJ must be investigating how grand jury information got leaked and how Schwartz got that information to leak.

The failson might not want to advertise how happy he is to share America's secrets.
