

WHITE HOUSE STATEMENT SUGGESTS FLYNN HAS BEEN PARDONED ONLY FOR THE CHARGE HE PLED GUILTY TO

The White House statement on the Flynn pardon tells a lot of lies (which I'll return to). But the important detail is its reference to a "full pardon" only references the charges Flynn pled guilty to and only his prosecution.

In fact, the Department of Justice has firmly concluded that the charges against General Flynn should be dropped. This Full Pardon achieves that objective, finally bringing to an end the relentless, partisan pursuit of an innocent man.

If that's right, then Flynn is still at risk of charges for both secretly working as an agent of Turkey and his lies to Judge Sullivan.

In which case, Judge Sullivan's job is very much not over, and the DC Circuit's order that he proceed with dispatch about the existing charges presumably no longer applies.
