

HUNTER BIDEN FOUND GUILTY ON ALL CHARGES

An unsurprising result.

Let the appeals begin. That said, the conviction on the two documents charges make any appeal more difficult.

Here's the verdict form.

Joe Biden's statement:

As I said last week, I am the President, but I am also a Dad. Jill and I love our son, and we are so proud of the man he is today. So many families who have had loved ones battle addiction understand the feeling of pride seeing someone you love come out the other side and be so strong and resilient in recovery. As I also said last week, I will accept the outcome of this case and will continue to respect the judicial process as Hunter considers an appeal. Jill and I will always be there for Hunter and the rest of our family with our love and support. Nothing will ever change that.

Hunter Biden's statement:

I am more grateful today for the love and support I experienced this last week from Melissa, my family, my friends, and my community than I am disappointed by the outcome. Recovery is possible by the grace of God, and I am blessed to experience that gift one day at a time.

Abbe Lowell's statement:

We are naturally disappointed by today's verdict. We respect the jury process, and as we have done throughout this case, we will continue to vigorously pursue all the legal challenges available to Hunter. Through all he has been through in his recovery, including this trial, Hunter has felt grateful for and blessed by the love and support of his family.

Update: Juror Ten gave a fairly long interview with CNN. It sounds like the only thing the jury had doubts about today was the materiality of the lie on Count One.
