

INTERNATIONAL REPUBLICAN INSTITUTE ENDORSES ACCURACY OF EXIT POLLS

Congratulations Presidents Kerry and Gore, the State Department's International Republican Institute has just belatedly declared you both President. Or perhaps not. Perhaps the IRI has not released its exit poll from the Kenyan election precisely because doing so would suggest exit polls are an accurate measure of election fraud—and all that might imply for recent US electoral politics.