

DOJ IS TREATING JANUARY 6 AS AN ACT OF TERRORISM, BUT NOT ALL JANUARY 6 DEFENDANTS ARE TERRORISTS

DOJ has already achieved tangible results by treating some January 6 defendants – primarily militia members – as terrorists. But we won't see that at sentencing until people who engaged in violence to prevent the peaceful transfer of power are sentenced.