

WE NEED A NEW COMMON AMERICAN STORY

In 2016, I argued that Trump appealed to those who were lost with the fracturing of the myth of American exceptionalism. In 2020, it's clear that if we don't replace that myth with some kind of common story, this country won't survive.