

WHEN JOHN EASTMAN ACKNOWLEDGED THAT CANDIDATE TRUMP SPOKE IN HIS PERSONAL CAPACITY

When John Eastman moved, on Trump's behalf, to intervene in Texas v. Pennsylvania, Eastman described that Trump spoke "as a candidate for re-election," he spoke in "his personal capacity." That motion plays a key role in the Blassingame decision, and may have important implications as Trump appeals Judge Tanya Chutkan's ruling on absolute immunity.